

You can rebuild their lives

Appalling pictures are coming out of Haiti including those showing that the logistical problem of getting help to their desperate people remains a huge one.

Just a Drop is ready to fly out its engineers once the initial relief period is over to identify vital projects. And to then work with construction teams to help rebuild the water and sanitation infrastructure and encourage displaced communities back to their homes and villages.

Help us help them. To make a personal or company donation please visit our website.

Thank you.
